MARICOPA COUNTY.

NUMBER SEVEN.

PHENIX.

The idea of laying off a town here was born in the saloon of Major McKinney, which we have already noticed, as located upon the premises of George R. Roberts.
After much talk upon this important subject, our esteemed citizen, James Back, familiarly known as "Uncle Jim," ventured the wise remark that it took money to survey a town, and forthwith deposited twenty dollars towards the enterprise. Uncle Jim had then located his present home ranch, immediately north of Phenix. The town was surveyed by Capt. W. A. Hancock, and that the work was well done, every property owner within the limits, will attest. It is laid out in true line with the cardinal points of the compass; the streets being 80 feet in width; the lots 50 feet front by one hundred and thirty-seven and a half feet in depth. The alleys running east and west are twenty-five feet in width. By this arrangement it will be seen that a block of twelve lots with its alley constitute a square of three hundred feet each way. The lots fronting on the plaza and the public square, are twenty-five feet front by the depth already noted.

BUSINESS.

Business was pretty lively in the early settlement of Phenix, and many establishments were founded; the principal structures being for gambling, drinking, dancing and other nameless purposes. Times were good, grain and farm products of all kinds brought a high price and had a ready home market. This prosperity got away with the heads of many of the rancheros, and unnecessary luxuries in the way of fast living, were fully indulged in.

THE STAMPEDE.

The first era of prosperity was for two or three years when the reverse came. This was brought about by a want of home demand for the prolific crops so unflinchingly produced by the extended farming in this valley. Barley, the chief staple product, fell to a ruinous price. There was no development of the mineral fields of the Territory, employing an army of non-producers for their working that would consume the farm products.
The Indians were bad in all parts of Arizona, impeding travel, endangering life, and stopping emigration. The ruinous reduction in price for farm products, crippled the merchants, stopped the employment of laborers, and caused a stampede from the country. Several of the small farmers became fugitives, leaving as the saying is, "between two days" as they were unable to meet their creditors. The effect of this stampede is still felt in the minds of some of those who remained here during these troublous times. These men are afraid of too great a development of our agricultural resources, lest a repetition of the old calamity should occur. With the increase of interest, in capital and labor that is being invested in, and employed at the mines, such fears certainly are groundless.

The stampede made business very dull in Phenix. Many houses in the town were abandoned to the tarantula and scorpion. Roofs mouldered and fell in, and a general stag-nation and seeking after "green fields and pastures new" was the order of the times.

—Deer and antelope since the removal of the nomadic tribes of Indians to reservations, are all over Northern Arizona.

Letter from Tucson.

Tucson, June 11th, 1878.

I only wish you could see what a busy town this is, perfectly full of mining capitalists, among whom are Messrs. Tozier, Streich, Sevenoaks, McCann, White and others. The specimens they bring in from San Xavier mining camp, and Tombstone district are remarkably rich. The latter place is said to have millions lying on the ground in sight. Dozens of prospectors and miners may be seen each day packing their burros and waggon starting out to work or hunt up claims.

Gen. Oaks, commanding 6th Cavalry, arrived here last Saturday, and rumor says his headquarters will be at Camp Lowell. This movement will bring us some excellent music, in the shape of the 6th Cavalry band.

Our genial and whole-souled friend, Mr. Horton, Principal of our public school, has decided to run for the office of County Treasurer, next election. Years of close confinement with his pupils, has considerably impaired his health, and we hope he may secure the position, giving him more air and healthy exercise.

I am very sorry that by mentioning Mr. Kelly as leader of the troupe, that the jealousy of Mr.
Ja—I mean "one of the boys," was excited, but Mr. Ja—I mean the "boy," will get over such things when he gets to be a man. More anon. EKKES.

TUCSON, June 11, 1878.

ED. HERALD: In this weeks issue of your valuable paper, I notice one of the members of the late minstrel troupe, denies that I was leader—correct. I never presumed to be leader—simply stage manager.
Mr. H. A. Beckle was the originator and leader of the troupe. And the boy who signed himself "One of the boys" acted as chief supernumerary. F. C. KELLEY.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

—The Peck Mining Company's troubles are all settled.

—L. Bashford has purchased some feet on the Tiger mine for $1,500.

—Hon. H. N. Alexander has been appointed District Attorney of Yuma county.

—Company K, now stationed at Camp Lowell, has been ordered to proceed to Angel Island.

—The corner stone of the new Presbyterian Church, Tucson, was laid on the afternoon of June 13th.

—A postoffice has been established at Mesoville, Pinal county, and Josephine Dodson appointed postmaster.

—Wells, Fargo & Co. shipped last month $60,000 in silver, and $10, 000 in gold from Prescott to San Francisco.

—Bowers and Richards are putting the Senator mill in good shape, and propose reducing ores from the Senator mine soon.

—The owners of the Emmett mine, situated in the Black Hills district, are contemplating the erection of a 5-stamp mill, and negotiations for the purchase of one in San Francisco are now under consideration.
We trust that this will be done, as the mine bears a good name for richness in gold.—Miner.

—E. I. Fuller has been appointed Deputy Grand Commander of the "Knight's Commander of the Sun" or the Sons of Liberty.
He will institute a Territorial Commandery in a short time. All members of the order in this Territory will please communicate with him by letter or person at Prescott.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

Now that the Mineral Resources of Arizona are being rapidly developed, agricultural products will be in great demand and the Farmer will quickly find himself King, and while enjoying home comforts will reap largely of the golden harvest of the hardy miner. Prospectors who are searching the mountains for hidden treasures —it may be poor as Job's turkey—will in a moment find themselves Bonanza Kings and be able to revel in luxury the rest of their days; but all men cannot become owners of rich mines! All men cannot become wealthy farmers!
To the great mass of mankind the price of pork and beans will still be an object.

E. IRVINE & CO.

Being aware of this fact,
